*** Camogli

Camogli: the town of 1000 white sailing boats

Rich in history and tradition, besides its natural beauty Camogli is an ancient seaside town noted for its lovely little port and for the houses painted in a variety of colours that line the seafront. It is not difficult to find good reason to visit in any season, above all thanks to its climate which offers glorious weather and, even in the winter months, many sunny days. The centre of Camogli is situated in a hollow in the Gulf of Paradise at the extreme western end of the Portofino promontory 23 kilometers to the east of Genoa. It is in the Portofino Natural Park and this area of the sea is part of the Protected Marine Nature Area.

The town is easily reachable by train or car from several cities ( Pisa, Florence, Lucca Genoa..)
