LORENCE

Primavera by Botticelli, by Michelangelo's David and by the works of Titian and Beato Angelico. Take in the beauty of Florence, majestic in the simplicity of its architectural lines, its history, its charm, its beauty and further enhanced by the flavours of one of the most famous cuisines in the world. These are just some of the reason why millions of people every year visit the city of the Renaissance. You can also chose not just to limit yourself to scratching the surface, by leaving the beaten path of touristic consumerism and giving yourself time to take in all the rest: the social, economic and cultural liveliness of the neighbourhoods, with their markets, workshops, stores, restaurants and meeting points. You can discover a dimension of the city where the Italian spirit meets and mingles with the spirit of the foreigners that have chosen to live here and contribute to making Florence a lively multi-cultural city and an important centre for art, music, fashion and crafts. Florence and Tuscany have an important tradition of hosting youths and all those who are drawn to Italian language and culture with a path that winds its way through programmes of history of art, of arts and crafts, of cooking of fashion and of design. All of Tuscany, which is the cradle of the

Take a walk along the banks of the Arno, or lose yourself in the narrow medieval streets that sometimes open into splendid squares. Stop to look at the prestigious monuments: from the Duomo to the Church of Santa Croce; from Palazzo Vecchio in Piazza della Signoria to Palazzo Pitti with the Boboli Gardens; from Ponte Vecchio to the Uffizi Gallery; from the Medici Chapels with the tomb of Lorenzo il Magnifico to the Church of Santo Spirito. Let yourself be amazed again by the beauty of the Italian language and of European culture, was and continues to be, the point of convergence and the workshop of art and culture; without ever losing sight of its past (Michelangelo, Leonardo da Vinci, Machiavelli, Giotto, Leon Battista Alberti, Brunelleschi) it keeps a steady eye on its future.

● THE SCHOOL

Our school is located in the historic centre of Florence in Piazza Santo Spirito, one of the finest squares of the city and one of the favourite meeting points of Florentines and of our students.

The surrounding neighbourhood is very lively and is home to many artisan workshops as well as restaurants, bars, artist's ateliers and wonderful open air markets.

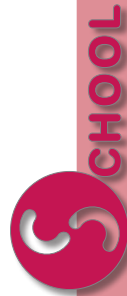

In the summer all of its piazzas host cultural events such as concerts and plays.

Centro Machiavelli is a reference point for those approaching the Italian language, who want to use the language creatively, and who are interested in this country's culture in its broadest sense.

Our defining characteristic is the care and attention which we dedicate to each of the participants of our courses, to their motivation and to the satisfaction of their expectations. The atmosphere, not just in class, is cheerful and informal, which is particularly important for our situation where communication has a specific relational objective.

The maximum number of 12 people per class allows rapid learning based on collaboration amongst the participants. As well as a clear illustration of the rules of the language, we always provide ample space for communicative activities and for games.

The constant attention to the evolving needs of the students leads us to adapt, innovate and continually improve our methods and materials. In addition to language courses we have courses in arts and crafts in artists' studios and craft workshops, specialized courses of jewelry and jewelry design, music classes and singing for opera lovers and singers, cooking classes for professionals and amateurs and a wide variety of activities some cultural and some just for fun. All courses and all activities are in Italian and therefore also become an exciting opportunity to practice communication and interpersonal skills.

● HISTORY

Centro Machiavelli was founded in 1978 and chose from the outset to use the communicative method for the same reason that many people have dedicated themselves to the study of language: to communicate and interact effectively with Italian cultural, social and economic reality.

Since 1988 the school has been part of Tandem International - an international association of language schools, committed to the research and application of methods founded on linguistic and cultural exchange. Students are offered the opportunity of being put in touch with Italians who study their language, by setting up a Tandem. A Tandem is made up of two people of different mother tongues who meet regularly in their free time to share common interests and communicate alternatively in their two languages.

In 2003 our centre obtained official recognition by the Ministry of Education and in 2005 it obtained a certification of quality according to the standards set out by ISO 9001:2000.

In 2008 Centro Machiavelli obtained accreditation from the region of Tuscany (Regione Toscana) as a training agency (Decree No. 5879 of 10/12/2008).

Since 2009, it has been participating as sponsor and partner on projects as part of education and training, financed by the European Commission, the region of Tuscany, the Provinces and the European Social Fund.

For information: <http://formazione.centromachiavelli.it>

The Centre also has the patronage of the Town of Florence for the participation in the project for language instruction to non-European citizens.

● THE TEACHERS

As our students come from all over the world, they have very different motivations, different previous scholastic experience, different ways of learning and even different school types. This situation requires continuous updating as well as mental flexibility and creativity.

The teacher has multiple roles in the class all of which are indispensable: facilitator, entertainer, linguistic consultant, and disseminator of culture. This entails an experimental approach to the profession and constant attention to group dynamics. The texts and multimedia teaching materials that we use are the result of on-going research and development to adapt them to the real needs of the students.

● THE METHOD

Apart from grammar and syntax, there are four skills - reading, writing, listening and speaking - which we consider necessary to be developed right from the first level, in order to enable comprehension and expression in authentic communicative situations. To this end situations are simulated in the classroom using authentic teaching material. Structures and vocabulary are adapted to the lower levels and become progressively more complex until, at advanced levels, different types of text are used to encourage the recognition and reproduction of different language styles.

● Test

Entrance test: done in two parts, a written section and an oral section. The test results are used to gauge the level of communication skills and the classes are made accordingly.

Mid-course verification: tests divided according to level, done periodically with the aim of constantly checking the learning process, and ensuring that the objectives set out for each level are being reached thereby maintaining the homogeneity of the groups.

● Certificates and exams

Attendance Certificate: At the completion of the course, a certificate is emitted with the course dates, number of hours studied and the level obtained.

Certificate of Italian as a Foreign Language (CILS): Our school is a centre for the preparation for the exam CILS from the University for Foreigners of Siena. The exam can be set for one of four levels and the certificate is recognised by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

● ITALIAN LANGUAGE PROGRAMME

Group and private courses at all levels, year round, morning and afternoon.

The groups are small and this favours effective interaction in class and active involvement of students in exercises of linguistic production (simulation, role play, discussions on specific subjects, group work, games). Collaborative learning is encouraged and lecturing is kept to a minimum as is the use of a second language. All teaching materials are provided at the beginning of the course. The structure and the contents of the programmes for all levels are based on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (C.E.F.R.)

Practical courses in the workshops of artists and artisans. The courses are done in cycles of 24 hours and each lesson is 60 minutes. They are practical courses and are done in the artists studio. The lesson schedule is set between the artisan and the student. In the city centre where the school is situated, in the neighbourhoods of Santo Spirito and San Frediano, art and artisan workshops still operate producing objects and artifacts which are the fruit of refined workmanship and techniques that have been handed down for centuries. In the interest of promoting this inheritance we are, in collaboration with Florentine artists and artisans, offering a vast range of courses which allow participants to learn or refine artistic techniques by working in direct contact with these professionals in their workshops and, indirectly, to practice and broaden their knowledge of Italian language and culture through a motivated exchange.

CULTURAL ACTIVITIES AND SEMINARS

Centro Machiavelli offers its students extracurricular activities, some free and others not, which take place outside normal lesson time. They are activities aimed at assisting students in understanding modern day reality in Italy, appreciating its historic and artistic patrimony and helping them to orient themselves in the city, the country and the culture. The activities also have a clear social function, creating occasions for exchange amongst students from different classes who meet and speak Italian in an authentic rather than an artificial situation. On request by students seminar topics can be extended into short courses with conditions and prices to be established according to each case. The school tape and video library which includes many classic Italian films can be used by students in the afternoon.
