STIRLING

Stirling is a city in central Scotland. At the heart of its old town, medieval Stirling Castle is on a craggy volcanic rock. On the Abbey Craig outcrop, the National Wallace Monument is a 19th-century tower. It overlooks the site of the 1297 Battle of Stirling Bridge, where William Wallace defeated the English.

THE CENTRE

Our Stirling centre is based at the University of Stirling. It's a truly stunning location, and the campus has its own loch and castle! What more could you wish for in Scotland?!

The student residence has single en-suite rooms. There are kitchens with fridges and seating space, as well as a communal TV lounge and games room. Your room will include a single bed, study desk and chair, wardrobe and drawers.

There are indoor and outdoor sports facilities, a superb disco venue, and large lecture theatres for movie night.
