What is the CELTA?

The Certificate in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (CELTA) is the most widely recognised qualification in EFL teaching internationally. The award is validated by Cambridge Assessment English who set the guidelines and criteria for centres running these courses.

The course takes place over a minimum of 120 hours and can be studied full time over 4 weeks or part time over 10 weeks.

Who are Centre of English Studies?

Centre of English Studies (CES) was established in 1979, and has won a well-deserved international reputation as one of the leading English language schools in Canada, the United Kingdom and Ireland. We offer year-round language courses for both adults and juniors, and summer language courses for young learners.

In 2023, students from more than 85 different countries chose to study English with Centre of English Studies.

CES is recognised as a full member of IALC (International Association of Language Centres) and many of our schools are also accredited by EAQUALS (European Association of Quality Language Centres).

Why choose us for your CELTA?

When Centre of English Studies opened our Edinburgh school in 2015, we put teacher training and development at the very heart of what we set out to offer. In the past eight years we have helped hundreds of CELTA trainees go on to achieve their teaching dreams across the globe, and we are proud to include several of our graduating students amongst our own academic team.

Frequently asked questions

What can I do with a CELTA?

The CELTA enables the bearer to teach English as a foreign language both in the UK and abroad and is often the minimum requirement sought by employers. A CELTA qualification is required if you wish to teach in a British Council-accredited school.

How long does the course take?

The full time course is a minimum of 120 hours over four weeks. Class hours in the school run from 09.00 to 17.00 and in the evenings you will be asked to prepare lessons for the following day and / or complete assignments.

The part time course also covers 120 hours over a minimum of 10 weeks. You work independently through units online where you learn how to teach.

You will also have 4 assignments to complete throughout the 10 weeks.

What does the course content consist of?

Input sessions are devoted to methodology, language awareness, phonology and lesson preparation. It is a Cambridge requirement that you observe six hours of classes with qualified teachers and do a minimum of six hours assessed teaching practice.

On the full time course, teaching practice can take place in the mornings or in the afternoons, followed by feedback. This will vary.

On a part time course teaching practice is on two days either on weekdays or on weekends.

By the end of the course you will have taught at least two different levels of class.

Frequently Asked Questions

What type of student will I be teaching?

Teaching practice students come from the local community. Many of them are working in Edinburgh (e.g. in bars, restaurants or as au pairs) and are delighted to attend these classes taught by you and observed by your tutors. Online teaching practice involves students from all over the world.

How will I be assessed?

You are assessed on two components: your teaching practice and four written assignments. Cambridge has a set of criteria for each component that you must meet in order to get the certificate. Towards the end of the course an external assessor comes in to moderate the course and to ensure that the assessment is being carried out consistently. During the course you will have a minimum of one private tutorial with your tutor at which you will be given an indication of your progress to date.

Do you give career advice?

The majority of students who successfully obtain the CELTA qualification look to teach abroad after the completion of the course. During the course, information will be available to assist you in finding employment and our teaching staff will be happy to provide advice and recommendations.

Full time EFL teaching positions in the United Kingdom are more difficult to come by than those abroad, except in the summer months when a large number of summer schools operate in Great Britain and Ireland. Centre of English Studies have eight schools operating in Canada, Ireland and the UK throughout the year, with an additional eight young learner schools taking place in the summer.

There are often job opportunities available in these schools and successful trainees will always be considered for available roles.
