The fun of learning and speaking Spanish

Learning and practising Spanish is an affordable and accessible luxury to anyone at any age; Spanish is a highly sociable language. Travelling and taking a Spanish course is ultimately enriching and helps you maintain a healthy curiosity as well as keeping you on your toes while enjoying all the other benefits of being on holiday: eating local dishes, going on cultural visits, etc. Expressing yourself in the language of Cervantes offers you much more than a simple holiday. It allows you to speak with people, immerse yourself in the culture and traditions and not be simply just another tourist.

El placer de aprender y practicar el español

Aprender y practicar el español es un placer accesible a cualquier persona de cualquier edad; el español es un idioma altamente sociable, vital y alegre. Viajar y hacer un curso de español es mantener viva la curiosidad, enriquecerse, conservar un alto rendimiento mental al tiempo que se disfruta de los mejores aspectos del ocio, la gastronomía, los eventos culturales, las visitas, etc. Comunicar en la lengua de Cervantes permite hacer mucho más que un simple viaje. Posibilita el diálogo directo con las personas, adentrarse en la cultura y las tradiciones y no ser un simple turista observador.

23 countries with distinct cultures and 500 million Spanish speakers

Spanish isn't only the language of the forty million Spaniards, it's also the official language in 22 other countries throughout the world; many of them in South and Central America. From Tierra del Fuego in Argentina to Mexico and from Valparaíso in Chile to Buenos Aires in Argentina via Macchu Pichu. Spanish can open many doors on a fascinating and animated history and culture with an extensive wealth of literature of great variety. Spanish is also the second language in the U.S.A. A statistic that makes the number of Spanish speakers, in a world becoming increasingly globalised, total 500 million speakers.

23 países y culturas, 500 millones de hispanoparlantes

El español no sólo es la lengua de 40 millones de españoles, es también la lengua oficial de 22 países, muchos de ellos en América del Sur. Desde Tierra de Fuego hasta México y desde Valparaíso a Buenos Aires pasando por Machu Pichu. El español abre las puertas a una historia fascinante ilustrada por culturas milenarias y una literatura tan variada como extensa. El español es también la segunda lengua de comunicación de los Estados Unidos y en su totalidad alcanza a más de 500 millones de personas en un mundo globalizado y ávido de intercambios de conocimientos.

The exoticism of Andalusia: the ideal place to learn Spanish

Andalusia has been a land of myths within Europe and attracted the first travellers, adventurers and writers since the 19th Century when the image of it being the friendly, exotic face of Spain began: the light of the Mediterranean, the warm climate, the bright colours, the cobbled streets with whitewashed houses, the fields of horses and bulls, flamenco, Picasso, García Lorca and many other myths and truths that make Andalusia the very essence of Spain. Andalusia is the largest and most populous region in Spain, the only one that offers a Mediterranean and an Atlantic coastline and the only one that has a history formed from two different ancient cultures: Roman and Arab.

El exotismo de Andalucía: entorno ideal para aprender español

Andalucía ha sido siempre un tierra mítica en Europa y generó la atracción de los primeros viajeros, aventureros y escritores ya por el siglo XIX. En Andalucía se forjó y generó la imagen más amable y exótica de España: la luz mediterránea, el clima cálido, los colores vivos, los callejones de piedra y casas blancas, los campos poblados de caballos y toros, el flamenco, Picasso, García Lorca y tantos otros mitos y realidades que hacen de Andalucía la esencia misma de España. Andalucía es la región más extensa y poblada de España, la única que ofrece dos Mares y se fundamenta en dos culturas milenarias: la romana y la árabe.

Un curso que responde a las necesidades y expectativas de los estudiantes mayores de 50 años

El curso Español y cultura (50+) fue creado por clic hace ya varios años para estudiantes de más de 50 años en busca de un curso adaptado a sus intereses tanto en el contenido de sus clases como en el ritmo de las mismas y en el programa sociocultural. Clases en grupos reducidos del mismo rango de edad, un método que hace hincapié en la práctica oral haciendo más atractiva la gramática, un trato individual por parte de un profesor atento a las necesidades de cada alumno, un alojamiento cercano y de alta calidad y un programa de inmersión sociocultural variado y ameno hacen de esta experiencia mucho más que un simple curso de español. Una estancia en Sevilla y Cádiz para aprender español y vivir momentos de diversión y ocio inolvidables entre amigos.

A course that responds to the needs and expectations of mature students

The Spanish language and culture (50+) course was designed some years back for people who fall into this age group who are looking for a course whose content caters to their interests and that goes at their pace. There is a separate cultural programme designed for them during their course. The class sizes are reduced and the class methodology focuses on oral practice and the study of the grammar through this. Reduced class sizes enable the teacher to dedicate more time individually to the students and therefore incorporate the needs of the students into the class content. High quality student accommodation is close to the school and the diverse cultural programme running parallel with the classes makes the experience much more enriching than many other Spanish language courses: A spell in Seville or Cadiz learning Spanish and enjoying the leisure time make for an unforgettable shared experience.

Curso de español y cultura para mayores de 50.
Diversión y aprendizaje entre compañeros con los mismos intereses

El curso español y cultura para mayores de 50 años va dirigido a aquellos que quieren estudiar el español en un entorno real y acercarse de manera activa a la cultura, la gastronomía, los vinos, la arquitectura, el flamenco y la historia del arte y todos los aspectos sociales de la lengua y de la vida española.
El programa de inmersión sociocultural permite revisar y practicar el vocabulario a través de visitas a monumentos, espectáculos de danza y teatro, catas de vinos, almuerzo con profesores, etc. Una serie de eventos que permiten al estudiante en edad madura sentirse satisfecho tanto por su aprendizaje como por su experiencia cultural y social.

Spanish language and culture courses for the over fifties.
A fun learning environment with classmates with similar interests

The Spanish language and culture (50+) is aimed at those who want to study Spanish in authentic surroundings and get first hand experience of the culture, the food, the wine, the architecture, flamenco, the art history and all other aspects of Spanish life. The sociocultural immersion programme allows students to revise and practise vocabulary through visits to the sights, performances of music and dance, theatre, wine tasting, lunch with the teachers etc. A series of activities that allow mature students to feel satisfied with what they have learnt and with what they have experienced.

Sevilla es arte,
color,
flamenco,
saber vivir
y buena mesa

Sevilla es la capital de Andalucía y la tercera ciudad de España, con 750.000 habitantes. Con los naranjos que adornan sus elegantes avenidas y sus coloridas callejuelas; el río Guadalquivir, testigo de los más importantes hitos históricos de la época árabe y de la conquista de América; imponentes monumentos y murallas que inspiraron las más sonadas óperas como Carmen, El Barbero de Sevilla, Don Giovanni y tantas otras; con sus fachadas de mil colores y su inconfundible Giralda, que resume el crisol de culturas y creencias que ha sido siempre Andalucía. Llamada por los árabes Isbilía e Hispalis por los romanos, no sólo es patrimonio cultural de la UNESCO por poseer el casco histórico mas extenso de Europa, sino también una capital efervescente y enérgica que ha sabido evolucionar con los tiempos y ofrece al visitante una red de modernos teatros, una ópera de referencia internacional, un estadio olímpico, decenas de museos, innumerables espectáculos flamencos y una oferta gastronómica que sitúa la ciudad entre las primeras de Europa. Sevilla se recorre a pie y muestra a quienes la visitan su cara más cercana. Los sevillanos acogen a los extranjeros haciendo gala de su afable y alegre carácter.

Seville: Art, colour, flamenco, the good life and good food

Seville is the capital of Andalusia as well as being the third largest city in Spain with a population of 750,000. With the orange trees lining elegant avenues and the colourful small back streets; with the Guadalquivir river running through the city as witness to the period of Arab domination and then the conquest of the Americas; with the imposing monuments and the old city walls that inspired operas such as Carmen, The barber of Seville, Don Giovanni and others; with the colourful facades and the unmistakeable Giralda that reflects and represents the fusion of cultures and beliefs that have always made up Andalusía. Known by the Arabs as Isbilia and by the Romans as Hispalis, it's not only a UNESCO World Heritage site housing Europe's largest old town, it's also a lively and energetic regional capital that has developed with the times and offers visitors a network of modern theatres, an internationally renowned opera house, an Olympic stadium and museums. Flamenco performances and a fantastic gastronomic offering place Seville high amongst other cities in Europe. Seville is best seen on foot so as to get to know it up close. The locals "Sevillanos" will be more than welcoming.

Cadiz is sea, nature and 3,000 years of history

Cádiz or The small silver cup as some call it, is a sea port and is the oldest settlement in western Europe. It's the provincial capital with about 130,000 inhabitants. Cadiz has very much its own character and personality due to the fantastic light (almost African) and its location: A peninsula surrounded by water. Beyond having an enchanting old town centre, the city is famous for its lifestyle, the bars, the markets filled with fruit, vegetables and freshly caught fish. Cadiz and the surrounding areas have a well earned reputation amongst those who love the coast for the unspoilt beaches where one can practise water sports such as kite surfing or wind surfing. Because of its late arrival on the tourist trail, Cadiz has been able to preserve its architectural heritage. Its miles upon miles of coastline offer the visitor wild beaches flanked by sand dunes and pine forests. Paradise for those trying to escape from other tourists. Many consider Cadiz to be the European Havana because of its exotic feel. The locals "Gaditanos" are known throughout Spain for lively character and their sense of humour which is best seen on show at carnival time.

Cádiz es mar, naturaleza y 3.000 años de historia

Cádiz o la Tacita de Plata, como la llaman algunos, es un puerto de mar y el asentamiento humano más antiguo del oeste de Europa. Es la capital de la provincia de Cádiz y cuenta con 130.000 habitantes. Cádiz tiene carácter propio por su luz casi africana y su ubicación: una península rodeada de agua de mar. Además de un centro histórico con un encanto irresistible, la ciudad es famosa por su ritmo de vida, sus tascas y sus mercados repletos de frutas, verduras y pescados frescos. Cádiz y sus alrededores se han forjado una fama bien merecida entre los amantes de las playas vírgenes y apacibles en las que practicar deportes como el windsurf y el kite surf. Por su tardía incorporación a los destinos turísticos, Cádiz ha sabido preservar todo su patrimonio arquitectónico. Su costa ofrece kilómetros de playas salvajes flanqueadas de dunas y bosques de pinos; todo un paraíso para quienes huyen de las grandes aglomeraciones turísticas. Su sabor exótico hace que muchos la consideren La Habana de Europa. Los gaditanos son famosos en toda España por su gran sentido del humor y su carácter alegre que se manifiesta, con todo su esplendor, con motivo del famoso Carnaval de Cádiz.
