THE COLLEGE

The Collège International de Cannes is a local institution set in 10,000m<sup>2</sup> of wooded grounds, specialising in language learning. Since it was founded in 1931 by Paul Valéry, the school's aim has been to bring people together through learning.

This is a long-standing project, perpetuated by enthusiastic teachers and pupils who are keen to learn new languages and discovering new cultures.

In addition to its cultural and events offering, the Collège International de Cannes provides vocational training that is adapted and adaptable to all, in a welcoming and intercultural context.

A genuine educational and professional "toolbox", the Collège International de Cannes is a unique place that offers complete and versatile programmes.
