Over the years, studies have proven that positive student progress and better academic outcomes are directly related to the quality of the student's educational surroundings and overall living environment.

The current student housing offering in Dubai is limited in options which are appropriate for young individuals. There is a need for a safe and productive environment, services and facilities in close proximity to academic institutions.

Additionally, renting an apartment remains an expensive alternative that not only increases the overall cost of studying in the UAE but also comes with certain restrictive contractual requirements.

With more and more international students enrolling in Dubai, there is an increasing demand for viable student housing that's affordable, comfortable and secure. One that matches not only the standards set by international higher education institutions but by the city itself.
