PERU

DIVE IN PERU - $865

Mancora is located on the northern pacific coast of Peru. Here the Niño and Humboldt currents merge, providing for abundant marine life below the waters. These waters are home to over 2,700 marine species including a wide variety of fish, mollusks and crustaceans, and marine mammals. During dives off the coast, you can expect to meet green sea turtles, porcupine fish, angel fish, emperor fish, stingrays, moray eels, octopuses, sea horses, and more.

The 3-day PADI Open Water Diving Certification includes:

- Bilingual, PADI-certified instructor
- Course textbooks and materials
- Diving equipment rental
- Transportation to/from dive sites
- PADI certification
- 4 nights in a local hostel with breakfast included
