Navarre: Land of diversity

The Autonomous Region of Navarre is 10,421 sq. kilometres. It is in the North of Spain on the border with France. It is surrounded by the following regions of Spain, Aragon (to the East and to the South) La Rioja (to the South) and the Basque Country (to the North West).

Navarre has three very different geographic and bio-climatic areas: the mountainous area in the North, the area around Pamplona and finally the South of the Region. In the last century the population of Navarre has nearly doubled. At the moment it is around 640.000 inhabitants.

The cultural offer is quite considerable and varied, due to the amount of activities offered by the Institutions both public and private. These include the Local Government, the Town Halls, Private Foundations and the Universities. This offer has been augmented in the last couple of years by infra-structures such as the Baluarte, which includes an Auditorium and a Conference Hall. As well as that, in the little village of Alzuza, located 4 kilometres from Pamplona, can be found the Museum of Jorge Oteiza, an internationally renowned sculptor.

The biological heritage of Navarre is very diverse, not only due to the geographical characteristics of the area but also to the development undergone by Navarre in the last few years which has been able to harmonise economic development with respect for the environment.

The gastronomy of Navarre is both diverse and natural. Navarre can offer the world, succulent steak, some excellent red-peppers, incomparable asparagus and some delicious cheese all washed down by magnificent wines. Then, to finish off one can try the Navarrese liquor, Pacharán.

Pamplona: Slice of life

The city of Pamplona is located in the very centre of Navarre and a large part of it is surrounded by the river Arga.

This city can boast of being built for living in. It has approximately 200.000 inhabitants and has over 4.000.000 square metres dedicated to parks and gardens, which make it one of Europe's greenest cities.

In spite of being a relatively small city it enjoys enormous prestige for the quality of both its universities and its health system.

This has turned Pamplona into a venue for scientific, technical, business, health and cultural conferences. There are two state universities in Pamplona, The Public University of Navarre and the Distance Learning University. The private sector is represented by the University of Navarre.

Another aspect that helps to elevate the quality of life in Pamplona is its excellent public and private health service. Pamplona can consider itself a privileged city due to the variety and quantity of cultural and leisure activities on offer, its streets full of buildings of artistic-historical interest, its rich and varied gastronomy, its world famous festival of San Fermin, its respect for the environment, and of course the friendliness of its people.

The Spanish Institute

Introduction

Pamplona Learning Spanish Institute owes its existence to Clen College, which has been in operation for over 20 years giving language training to people in Pamplona and the surrounding areas; and the Government of Navarre, which is keenly interested in promoting Navarre as a destination for students of Spanish as a second language.

Our school is located in the centre of the city, in a building of historical interest, where Pamplona Learning Spanish Institute has five classrooms, a library, an auditorium, a café and a restaurant. The whole building is wifi.

Days on which the school is closed in 2025.

The general courses begin every Monday during the year if there are at least three students enrolled. The school closes during the following dates in 2025: January 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 6th, April 17th, 18th, 21st, May 1st, July 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 25th, August 15th, November 1st, December 3rd, 6th, 8th. It will close for the Christmas break from December 22nd till 31st 2025 both inclusive.

Lessons not given on those dates will not be made up for. If there are two holidays in the same week, lessons will be made up for one.

If the holiday falls on a Monday, Tuesday will be the start date.

Programming and material

Students will be given a test a week before starting their course to determine their level so that they can be placed in the corresponding group.

On the first day of class, the student should go to the school, Avenida Baja Navarra 47, at 8.45 in the morning where he/she will be met by a member of the staff.

At this time, the student will be given an "information pack" which contains a city map of Pamplona, general information about Pamplona, the lessons and bus timetables, bus pass information, etc.

Afterwards the students will be shown around the building in order to make them feel comfortable in the area on their first day at school.

Once this is accomplished lessons will begin.

In those cases where the class is a "one to one", the programme will be determined between the student and the teacher. In the rest of the cases the programme has been predetermined.

Class material is included in the price. In those cases where the student moves up another level the student will have to pay the cost of material for that new level (40 euros).

The methodology

The sessions in Pamplona Learning are focused on the student and his/her learning and progress. This is why the students' origin, age, learning style, needs, etc, are taken into account when preparing the sessions. The language used in class is Spanish only. The sessions try to promote both the students' involvement in the activities and the interaction between students. In addition to our communicative and action-based approach, the courses follow the European Framework regarding the task based approach. Student related situations are brought up in class.

Special emphasis is put on the communicative aspects of the language such as oral comprehension and expression.

The programmes of Pamplona Learning have been developed by highly qualified teachers and according to the guidelines set out by the Instituto Cervantes. The teachers at Pamplona Learning are university graduates and have specific training in the teaching of Spanish as a second language.

PAMPLONA LEARNING LEVELS	EUROPEAN EQUIVALENCE	DELE (2025)

> Superior – C2

The students can use the language very fluently. They should be able to argue convincingly and to use the specific vocabulary needed for each situation. They will be able to read literary texts from contemporary authors and to write using different styles.

Accommodation

When it comes to accommodation the students of Pamplona Learning Institute can choose between different options.

- Homestay: We believe that this is one of the best ways to get to know the Spanish way of life, the culture and the traditions.

Full-board –single room, with three meals a day: continental breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Half-board –single room, two meals a day: continental breakfast and dinner from Monday to Friday and full-board at the weekend.

Double room accommodation can be provided but only for those people booking together.

- Shared apartment: self-catering in a flat shared with Spanish people. These people may be the owners of the apartment. These apartments are not student residences. The student provides his/ her own food and has access to the common areas such as the kitchen, living-room and the bathroom
- Any other type of accommodation (residence, hostel, hotel) upon request and availability.

Accommodation is available on the Sunday prior to the first day of course, until the Saturday following the last day of class. Extra nights might be available at the published prices.

Accommodation fees include:

Homestay: number of meals as chosen, towels and bed linen, cleaning of common rooms and student room, laundry once a week, electricity, gas and water up to a certain amount.

Shared Apartment: bed linen, blankets and towels, access to fully equipped kitchen and laundry (once a week), cleaning of common rooms, electricity, gas and water up to a certain amount. Students will be responsible for the cleaning of their room and private toilet (if provided).

* Electricity, gas and water are included up to certain amount, any consumption over that will be charged to the student.

- Half Board: continental breakfast and dinner from Monday to Friday and continental breakfast, lunch and dinner at the weekend.
- Full Board: continental breakfast, lunch and dinner from Monday to Sunday.
- Self-Catering: students provide and prepare their own food.

(See terms and conditions on page 19).

Other activities

Pamplona Learning can offer its students a wide range of activities to engage in once lessons are over or at weekends. Here is a sample list of what can be chosen from: Tours of Pamplona and its historical buildings, excursion to the medieval castle in Olite, visit to San Sebastian (a day on the beach), Guggenheim Museum in Bilbao mountaineering, trekking, visits to some of the most interesting wineries in Navarre, visits to Bardenas Desert, Natural Park of Señorío de Bertiz, Pilgrim's way to Santiago de Compostela in Navarra, horse-riding, golf, skiing in winter, Sanfermín special activities, bowling, parties, tapas tour, local concerts, etc.

In order to go on a field trip there is a minimum requirement of four people. The cost of these activities is not included in the price of the course.

On Mondays the student will get a copy of the planned activities. The school reserves the right to change or cancel any activity. The school only organizes activities for groups upon request.

Additional Information

Bank opening hours: 08:30 to 14:30.

The general prices: cinema 9 euros; soft drinks 2 euros; beer 2 euros; restaurant meals between 12 and 35 euros; discotheque 14 euros.

The whole building is wifi and students can use their laptops anywhere in the building. In addition, there are public wifi areas in the city center where the student can surf the web.

Pamplona has a lively night life with a large student population due to its two universities. Many young students come to these universities from other parts of Spain and from abroad.

The main gathering areas are the old part of the city or the neighbourhoods of San Juan, Iturrama and Ensanche. These areas are full of places where there is no room for boredom.

Pamplona is generally considered a safe city. However, we recommend that students should take the elementary precautions used when visiting any medium sized city: avoid areas that have no public lighting, being out alone very late at night etc.

Catholicism is the main religion of the country.

At the end of the first week in Pamplona Learning Spanish Institute, the student will be asked to fill out a satisfaction evaluation up to that point in time. Here the student can include his assessment regarding the course, the installations, the surrounding facilities, his/her lodging etc. We encourage students to fully assess their situation so that if need be we can improve their stay. They will be asked to fill out another survey on the last day of the course.

No official complaint can be processed once the course is over or the student has left Pamplona. The student will be expelled or repatriated for the following reasons: possession of drugs, damages to the facilities and place of lodging, if the student is a danger to himself or to others, if he / she breaks the law.

- * The distance from accommodation to the school is 25 minutes on average.

Insurance

Every student must have appropriate insurance. Pamplona Learning Spanish Institute recommends that all students take EUROP ASSISTANCE insurance which is tailored to the needs of international students.

Cover under the insurance policy does not commence until the insurance fees have been paid in full.

A full coverage insurance is a must for those students coming from a non member state of the European Community. If you do not want to purchase Europ Assistance insurance, you must provide a copy of your insurance policy.

Those from countries belonging to the European Union must bring their European Health Card.

In case of illness, students should go to the nearest health centre where they will receive medical assistance.

Accommodation Guidelines

When staying with a host family, you will be treated as a guest, and guests should follow certain household rules.

Here are some of the guidelines and responsibilities to help you make your stay an enjoyable one:

Although one of the benefits of living in a homestay or shared apartment is to improve your Spanish and knowledge of Spanish culture through conversation with your host family-apartment mates, it is important to remember that they are also busy and may not always have time to chat. They are not obliged to talk to you whenever you wish, and it is not their job to entertain you.

On the other hand, it is the responsibility of your host family to answer any questions you might have about how you should behave there.

Always ask questions if you are not sure about something! It may take a few days to get to know each other.

One way of initiating conversation with your host family is to share your own culture with them. You should also try to ask them about details of Spanish culture. In general, comparative observations can be a good icebreaker.

Telephone

Find out when you can receive calls and for how long you can keep the phone busy. If you make long distance calls from the host family's home, you must use a calling card or make collect calls.

If there is an extra charge on the telephone bill, you will have to pay your host or the accommodation officer.

Internet

Internet is an extra service that has to be arranged with the owner in terms of charges, time of usage and general conditions.

Laundry

Consult with your host family upon arrival about how and when you can wash your laundry.

Some homestay hosts will show you how to use the washing machine and tell you when you can use it while others hosts will ask you give them your laundry and they will wash it for you. In any case washing clothes is due to be done once a week. Please do not expect your host to iron your clothes.

Meals

It is common in Spain for all members of a family to have busy and possibly conflicting schedules. Cooking is therefore not always the responsibility of a single individual, and meals may be prepared in fast and easy ways. You may also be asked to prepare your own breakfast, lunch or dinner.

Remember that you will be expected to fit in with the usual diet of the household where you are accommodated.

If you plan to eat out, please call your host family at least 2 hours in advance and let them know that you will eat out.

Meals will take place in the kitchen or places indicated by your host.

➤ Breakfast

Spanish breakfast is very simple. It often consists of coffee, milk and toast or biscuits, (continental breakfast), sometimes some cereal and fruit.

➤ Lunch

The largest meal for Spanish people is usually lunch, which is often eaten between 13:30-15:00. Spanish lunch is the heaviest meal of the day usually with a three course meal.

What is eaten will depend on a variety of factors, including your host family's ethnic origins

➤ Dinner

Spanish dinner is usually between 20:30 – 22:00. There are variations on this. It's a light meal and often consists of salad, fish, sausages or omelette.

Bathroom

If you are sharing a bathroom with other members of the family, please find out when is the best time to have a shower and for how long. It is your responsibility to provide your own bathroom supplies such as shampoo, body wash, toothpaste etc.

Cleanliness

You are responsible for keeping your room clean. You are expected to remove your plate and utensils from the table after meals. However, you are not required to do home chores such as baby sitting, gardening, house cleaning...etc.

The host family is in charge of the common rooms cleaning, at least every two weeks.

In the case of shared apartment, students are in charge of cleaning their room and toilet if they have asked for individual bathroom.

In the case of shared apartment, the host will leave enough room in common rooms such as kitchen and toilet.

Take care to leave kitchen and common rooms as tidy and clean as you would like to find them. Always let your host family know what time you will be home. Host families can get extremely worried about your safety.

Don't forget to turn off the lights! Turn off the TV or radio when you are not using them.

Do not bring strangers to the house without permission from the host family. If you want to bring a friend home, please ask your Homestay family in advance if it is all right to do so. Do not forget to confirm the visiting hours with your host family.

Emergencies

Dial 112 in emergency situations to reach an ambulance.

Dial 092 in emergency situations to reach the local police.

You should have medical insurance that covers any medical expenses that may happen during your stay in Spain. Make sure to show proof of insurance and emergency contact details to a Pamplona Learning Spanish Institute representative upon arrival.

Neither the host family nor Pamplona Learning Spanish Institute takes any responsibility for your medical or emergency medical expenses.

Pamplona Learning Spanish Institute does not assume any responsibility for any injuries you suffered while in the host family's care. Please consider getting insurance that covers both health care and emergency medical care.

If any physical or verbal abuse occurs, the student or visitor will be removed from the home immediately. The incident will be reported to the police and legal action taken. (This applies to both the student/visitor or host family).

If you accompany your host family on holidays, outings, or trips, you must pay for travel arrangements, accommodation, admission tickets and personal expenses.

If you have any concerns that you cannot discuss with your host family, please contact Pamplona Learning Accommodation Coordinator as soon as you can.

Rules For Accommodated Students: (PLSI- Pamplona Learning Spanish Institute)

1. I will give PLSI 20 days notice to move out of my Homestay. (If you fail to give proper notice when moving out of your Homestay, you will be required to pay the full month's Homestay fee).
2. I will give PLSI a MINIMUM of 2 WEEKS NOTICE to EXTEND my Homestay term. I understand that PLSI cannot guarantee the availability of my Homestay family. (Please note: Giving 1 week notice does NOT guarantee availability).

1. Meals required
2. A private bedroom for EACH student if required (must include a window, bed and wardrobe).
3. Access to a bathroom
4. Access to laundry once a week (arranged with your family)
5. Access to a TV
6. Your own key. Please take good care of the key and do not keep it with the address of the house. Please ask about arrangements for locking up and setting any house alarms.

Remember to return the key when you leave.

Remember courtesy and respect at all times.

Please remember that we at Pamplona Learning Spanish Institute are here to help you with any problems, questions or concerns that you may have during your stay in Pamplona. If you are having a problem and do not feel like you can talk to your host family directly, please contact the accommodation officer. If you do not understand any part of this contract, please speak with the accommodation officer.

I acknowledge that I have read the above mentioned 'Rules for Accommodated Students' and understand that after signing this document Pamplona Learning Spanish Institute has the right to ask me to leave Homestay/Flat-sharing (without a refund) if I should break any / all of the above mentioned rules.

EMERGENCY CONTACT NUMBER: + 34 606138370

I have thoroughly read the above Guidelines. I understand these Guidelines and I agree to follow them strictly.
