

PICCOLA UNIVERSITÀ ITALIANA

PER STRANIERI – TROPEA

Programme 2020

Cooking course:

Learn to cook Mediterranean style

Mediterranean cuisine is one of the most popular worldwide. Those who love Italy, also love the Italian cuisine. But what makes Italian cuisine so special?

Italians don't just eat to get full, for them eating is much more of a communicative experience – it is an expression of zest for life. Mediterranean cuisine is light, tasty and rich in variety.

During our popular cooking course 'Cooking Mediterranean style' you will be learning to make Italian dishes and also some typical Calabrese specialties shown to you by our amicable cooking teacher from Tropea.

Delve into the Italian way of life and the Calabrese culture outside of the classroom too.

The cooking course consists of 3 lesson units, each unit takes 3.5 hours.

The course lasts about 10 hours and starts at 6pm.

The course is held in Italian language.

On the first day you will receive a recipe list and an apron.

Minimum duration for this course is 1 week (= 3 evenings) and the maximum duration is 4 weeks.

The maximum number of participants is 2 (e. g.: friends or a couple). The course is however very popular amongst those travelling alone.

Each course day ends with a meal eaten together with your cooking teacher. The course fees cover all ingredients needed to prepare the meals which are consumed afterwards with your teacher.

Drinks are to be purchased separately by students.
