Revision

This is a document with exercises on each of the grammar points discussed during the week and listed on the 5 gps, including the conjugation of tenses, new vocabulary and new expressions. The final section on the Revision, personalized sentence analysis, requires to students to create questions to which the answers are the corrected sentences from the daily PSAs. This last section

Weekly Audios

Pronunciation audios are sent to each student at the end of each week, with the correct pronunciation of each word originally incorrectly pronounced by the students. Each word is pronounced twice with spaces in between, so as to allow the students to repeat the word and correct it if miss pronounced the first time.

Personal audios are those created by each student after each unit has been completed from the student course book. It is a summary of each unit in the students' own words.
