Let's take a look at the top 5 reasons why studying English is so important

English is the language of international communication

English is the official language in 53 countries and is spoken by about 400 million people worldwide.

Being able to speak English not only means being able to communicate with native English speakers but because it is the most common language in the world.

By the year 2020, the British Council expects that two billion people in the world will be studying English. Learning English is important because it allows you to easily communicate with the outside world. When you study English in EFL schools, you will make friends with people from many different countries.

Reasons why studying English is so important

English is the official language in the business sector

- English is the dominant language of business. It became necessary for people to speak English if they wanted to enter the business world. Research from around the world shows that business communication across borders is most often done in English and that many international companies expect employees to be fluent in English.
- International companies such as Microsoft and Nokia in Beijing have made English the official language of the company.
- Even in countries where English is not an official language, there are job advantages for people with good English language skills. These benefits include:
  - Start with a better salary.
  - Progression is faster in job grades.
  - Salaries rise faster.
  - The importance of learning English in the international market cannot be underestimated – learning English can truly change your life.
